NPL Watch Launch

The study offers an in-depth analysis of recent Non-Performing Loan (NPL) trends, providing valuable insights into the evolving economic landscape within the region. Covering key thematic topics relevant to IPAF members, the study will also highlight the latest status of member institutions.

To support long-term knowledge-sharing, findings from this study will be published annually on the IPAF website, contributing to a growing repository of research and industry insights.

BACKGROUND

The accumulation of Nonperforming Loans (NPLs) has emerged as a significant macro-financial risk, with spillover effects threatening the stability of banking systems in Asia and the Pacific. While financial interconnectedness presents challenges, it also offers opportunities for collective efforts in resolving insolvencies.

Recognizing this, the Asian Development Bank (ADB) and the International Public Asset Management Companies (AMCs) Forum (IPAF) continue to work together to enhance regional economic safety nets. Since its inception, IPAF has strengthened its mission through capacity building, knowledge sharing, and expanded cooperation among its members.

Through this study, IPAF will provide:

- ✓ Comprehensive NPL Data Analysis – A thorough assessment of NPL trends, risks, and strategic recommendations for member institutions.
- ✓ Economic & Policy Insights – An evaluation of the business environment to support effective NPL management strategies.
- ✓ Knowledge Sharing & Progress Updates – A periodic newsletter highlighting IPAF's activities, best practices, and international business opportunities

"Stay tuned for more updates on this initiative as IPAF continues to foster financial resilience in the region!"
